The foundation for this success begins at the elementary and middle schools. The LVCSD elementary and middle school students consistently earn regional, state, national and international recognition in:

- Toshiba ExploraVision Competition
- Lexus Eco Challenge
- Robotics
- Mathematics
- Athletics

- Locust Valley High School continues to qualify for New York State School of Distinction recognition, because all varsity teams earned scholar-athlete status, with at least a 90 grade point average per team.
- Locust Valley High School students are National Merit Finalists, Semifinalists and Commended Students.
- Colleges and universities recognize LVHS as a “School of Excellence.”
- Locust Valley High School students are accepted to a wide array of colleges and universities, routinely including Ivy League schools.

- Locust Valley High School students earn more than $10 million in academic and athletic scholarships each year.
- Varsity teams regularly win conference, county and state championships.
- Student artwork is chosen annually for display in prestigious local, state and national art exhibits.
- Annually, many students distinguish themselves in state music competitions such as NYSSMA and qualify for All-County and All-State.
- Almost 50 clubs for students to participate in, from art and music to economics and engineering, and everything in between.
